22-23 October 2025

CAN A CONFERENCE CHANGE THE WORLD?

This one can and that's our aim – to show businesses and governments precisely how BLOCKCHAIN, AI and Web3 can solve the world's biggest data challenges.

The London Blockchain Conference has established itself as the must-attend gathering for blockchain technology innovation tailored to enterprise and government.

Year after year we deliver a platform where industry pioneers, business leaders and policy makers converge to forge partnerships, unlock new opportunities and drive the adoption of practical blockchain solutions.

MORE THAN WORDS

What makes the London Blockchain Conference different from the tech conferences we've all been to – and forgotten about – is that our programme is designed to help people act.

Every talk, from every extraordinary expert is intended to show people what blockchain can really do – and showcase real-world case studies of the impact the technology can have.

The same goes for every exhibition, panel discussion, interactive session and networking opportunity – our 5,000 attendees will come away inspired, educated and ready to go.

TESTIMONIALS

“

This is the third time we have had a booth at the event and every single time that I've done it, it has gotten better for the business. We've had an incredible amount of traffic come through, people who want to buy our products and connect to our services”.

Great conference with like minded people who know a lot about blockchain and target audiences from enterprise and governments. We thought it would be logical to have a booth here to showcase our brand and our solutions and we've been able to connect to many new people that want to be part of those solutions”.
