EDINBURGH NAPIER UNIVERSITY

24 JUNE

Scotland is rapidly emerging as a blockchain innovation hub in the UK and Europe—driven by a vibrant tech ecosystem, leading universities, and a strong R&D culture. With growing investment, regulatory clarity, and cross-sector collaboration, blockchain is set to play a central role in Scotland's digital economy.

From Edinburgh's financial sector—where blockchain is being tested for payments, fraud prevention, and DeFi—to energy innovations like Scottish Power's certification platform and Orkney's decentralised trading project, real-world use cases are gaining momentum.

The Scottish Blockchain Summit brings together thought leaders, policymakers, and innovators for a high-impact, one-day experience. This complimentary event will explore how blockchain is reshaping finance, enabling transparent public services, and accelerating Scotland's green transition.

Backed by the Scotland Blockchain & Digital Trust Taskforce (SBDTT) and produced by the team behind the London Blockchain Conference, this summit shines a spotlight on local success stories and global breakthroughs — all with Scotland's innovation agenda in mind.

EXPERIENCE SCOTLAND'S BLOCKCHAIN REVOLUTION

GAME-CHANGERS, DISRUPTORS & INNOVATORS – THIS IS YOUR SUMMIT

The summit will bring together 400+ professionals from the financial, energy, manufacturing, VCs, tech and public sectors, fostering high-level intimate networking opportunities.

From blockchain-powered finance and public trust infrastructure to decentralised energy and quantum-secure systems, the conversations dive deep into the tech, the impact, and the opportunity — all through a uniquely Scottish lens.

The Scottish Blockchain Summit is your opportunity to:

- Showcase solutions to government, energy, manufacturing and finance leaders.
- Align with the region's tech-forward reputation.
- Shape the conversation on adoption in a market ready to scale.

If you're building where innovation meets real-world demand—Scotland is listening. Let's put your brand at the centre of the momentum now!
